Zinc is another of those protected products which show the beneficent workings of Protection. In 1875 this commodity produced only 15,833 tons of zinc, but Protection sent it to 83,200 tons in 1925. In the meantime the price in this market dropped from 7 cents a pound, to 4.63 cents a pound.

TRY IT HIMSELF.

New York Press.—If Grover Cleveland wants an object lesson in an income tax let him experiment with it first on his own salary.

+

A FREE-TRADER.

New York Press.—A large section of the Democratic party still refuses to believe that Jefferson Davis championed a "lost cause." He was a staunch defender of Free-trade.

+

A. C. B. AND Q. OFFICIAL.

Milwaukee Sentinel.—There is no great harm in calling him C. B. and Q. Everybody knows that he is an Attorney General, but it is easy to forget that he still holds another and more lucrative position.

+

LET'S HAVE IT.

New York Press.—The new income tax in Great Britain will be equivalent to about $2 per head for each man, woman and child. Such a tax in the United States would produce on the same basis about $130,000,000. Such a sum would enable the Free-traders to cut a wide swath.

+

A TWO-EDGED SWORD.

Boston Journal.—A potent Democratic argument for the income tax is that it would "squeeze the rich Republicans." But the people who would be affected by a tax upon incomes of $600 and over are not all rich, nor are all persons of energy and thrift to be found in the Republican party.

MIDSUMMER MADNESS AT WASHINGTON.

Washington Post.—Everybody goes about with his finger on his lip, uptight and begging others to be still, because the Administration is immersed in some mysterious and concerning matter, in which the fate of future cycles and generations hangs. It is like a strange dream—a phantasm of the summer night. All the rules that once defined selfishness, cowardice, stupidity, bad faith, humbug and pretense appear to have been set aside. We have nothing left but awe, credulity and infatuation.

REPEAL THE SHERMAN SILVER LAW.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—That query of the silver men, "how could the country stand the currency contraction that would come if the Sherman law were repealed unconditionally?" is easy. The country has far more money, compared with its business and population, than it had in 1879 and 1880, when trade was more active than it is now, and when the country was enjoying a solid prosperity such as it has not experienced in the past two or three years. The silver element of the currency was small then and the gold element large. If not another dollar were added to the silver element in the next dozen years the country would be in a better condition than it is now. It would have less silver than per capita than it has at present, but it would have more gold, as the gold which the redundant and depreciated silver has sent out of the country would return if the silver absorption should cease.

JACKSONIAN HARD TIMES.

George M. Pullman, the show-bus business man in Chicago, says in an interview: "We are hearing of new failures every day, and I apprehend that we may be going to have Jacksonian hard times, such as I was familiar with in my boyhood. The people, however, wanted a change. The town of Pullman gave 300 majority for Cleveland at the last election. It was in the air. I do not suppose we could have elected any President on the Republican ticket."

"Your own country is not suffering, is it?" the most famous carbuilder in the world was asked.

"No," he said, "but we are having some trouble in collecting money that is owed us."

"We have 15,000 employees, of whom 8,000 or 9,000 are mechanics and mechanical operatives. We serve 4,500,000 of meals over the land, between the St. Lawrence and Texas, and every one of those meals has to have a voucher in its office. We have built over 100 cars for the World's Fair alone, at a cost of $5,000,000, and we own of palace cars between 2,000 and 3,000, and carried last year more than 5,000,000 passengers; our mileage in this country is five times the circumference of the globe. Besides, we are carbuilders for anybody, and manufactured $10,000,000 worth of cars last year. At the town of Pullman, outside of Chicago, we pay $3,000,000 a year in wages. Our savings bank has over $300,000 in it."

WORLD'S FAIR NOTES.

A Few Points About Chicago Well Worth Remembering.

As a great many readers of THE LEADER will make their first trip to Chicago during the World's Fair, a few pointers regarding the geography of the city and its surroundings will be of interest to you.

In the first place, if you find in your mind the fact that Lake Michigan forms the Eastern boundary of the entire city, and if you stand on the lake with both arms outstretched, the left hand will point toward the North Pole and the right hand will point straight down the neck of the Big Four route to the World's Fair Buildings, situated at the Southern end of the city. Paste this in your hat and you have the key to the entire situation. Coming to the lake from the North, you will find the hotel and boarding-houses are located, you will find yourself passing practically through the Exposition Grounds and a moment's pause will give you a view of the fair.

At the World's Fair Station of the Big Four Route, if you step off at the right side, you are at the entrance gate to the exposition and can find "doing" the fair at once; if you step off on the left side, you will find the most outstanding first residence portion of Chicago, and right in the midst of the World's Fair Hotel and the neck of the Big Four route, the chances are ten to one you will be within a few minutes' walk of the very place you have selected for your headquarters.

If you prefer to go down town, ten minutes ride will bring you to the new Twelfth Street Station in the heart of the city. Now learn in mind the manifest advantage of entering Chicago on trains of the Big Four Route. In the first place you avoid entirely the bother and trouble of a contract transfer across the city, which is necessary via all other lines, being landed directly at the Exposition Grounds, where you can get your baggage by express line; and in the second place you can so fix the geography of the city in your mind that you will be able to find your way to the fair as easily as you can find your way to your own town.

Another point in favor of the Big Four Route is found in the fact that if you enter Chicago on the Ohio and Great Central Route, Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Kentucky Central Railroad, Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, or Baltimore and Ohio S. W. Railroad, connection is made at Union Depot, avoiding the disagreeable transfer necessary via all other routes. The Big Four Route is the shortest and most direct route to the fair. B. MARTIN, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati.

ONE CENT.

Mrs. L. V. DAVIS, who has conducted the Military business in this city for the past twenty-five years, has only one store in Maysville and that is located in Zweigler's Block, Second street below Sutton. Be sure you get into the right store.

The famous "bonnet story" which is held annually near Owensville under the auspices of the White Oak Church, was attended by 2,000 people. The rivalry among the women of a large region as to who shall wear the finest bonnet on this day is something wonderful, and seems to be on the increase. It rained almost all day and as a consequence many fine gowns were soiled and some ruined.

GLASGOW contemplates voting upon the prohibition question again. The town has been under the prohibition regime for twenty years, but that doesn't mean quietude. The Times says that lawlessness is rampant. Exciting outbreaks are frequent. The public peace is continually endangered and falls as often broken. In view of the fact that prohibition doesn't make a heaven out of the place The Glasgow Times very properly suggests that saloons be licensed, the revenue to be derived therefrom devoted to a better police force.

A Hint to World's Fair Visitors.

A prominent citizen of Stokes Mound, Ill., while in Chicago, was taken with violent choleraic pains and diarrhea. He took blackberry brandy three or four times without relief. He then secured a small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and upon taking one dose the pains disappeared and the second dose cured the diarrhea. Dr. H. M. Fowler of Stokes Mound is our authority for the above statement. Visitors to the World's Fair should procure a 5-cent bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It is for sale by Power & Reynolds, Druggists.

How It STANDS.

A LAW and Order League at Russellville has declared a war of extermination on the "blind tiger," and the members say that if other means fail then they expect to resort to switches and even violators of the prohibition law to be put in jail.

HON. JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.

He Will Not Appear at the Haywood Commencement.

On reaching home late Saturday afternoon I found the following threateningly disappointing letter awaiting me:

(Professor Hay)—My Dear Professor: An official call to Washington, on business so imperative and so important that it cannot be denied, renders it absolutely necessary that I should cancel my engagement at Maysville on the 7th, as well as two or three which follow in Ohio.

I beg you to believe that it gives me regret to make any change in your program at this hour, and that nothing but the importance of the business in hand would induce me to do so. I wish to bear to you my most hearty testimony to the strenuous endeavor which the Southern Locomotive Bureau at Louisville has made to induce me to keep my engagement. They have been particularly concerned in the matter, and have exhausted every effort that they could make to induce me to appear. It is most disappointing to me as to disappoint you, and you cannot possibly blame them for any failure to keep their engagement. I am sure the Southern Bureau will be able to find you immediately some substitute who will deliver an even better address than I could have done at this time.

"I hold myself bound to you if you should want me at any time during the coming fall, even if I have to come to you at some inconvenience to myself."

With a profound apology for the necessity which compels me to disappoint you, I beg leave to remain, with best wishes, very truly yours,

JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.

This necessitates a complete change in our closing exercises.

The Hall of Honor will be read and the diploma delivered to our graduates Tuesday evening, in connection with our other exercises for that evening, and there will be no exercises Wednesday evening.

The program for Tuesday evening, as already published, will be carried out in detail. All tickets already sold for Wednesday evening will hold good for Tuesday evening, and all persons holding tickets for Wednesday evening, which they do not wish to use Tuesday evening, may have their money refunded by leaving their tickets at Nelson's store.

THE RAIN

Kept Crowds Away From the World's Fair Sunday.

Less Than 60,000 People at the Second Sunday Exposition.

The Management Disappointed—The Visitors Were Nearly All Working People Living in Chicago—More Than Half From the West Than the East.

CHICAGO, June 5.—What the attendance at the World's fair might have been Sunday had it not rained, no one will ever know. But it rained, and it rained hard nearly all afternoon and Sunday night. The total number of paid admissions was less than sixty thousand. The second open Sunday of the fair dawned bright and clear, and it was uncomformably warm. The railways, surface and elevated and the steamboat lines brought out their entire service in anticipation of an immense business, but they were disappointed. Up to 1 o'clock in the afternoon they did a fair business, and carried upwards of thirty-five thousand people to the "White City." About that hour an ugly, threatening black cloud arose in the west, and in less than an hour the rain was falling in torrents. To make matters worse the wind blew a perfect gale, and it thundered in a most uncomformable manner. It was after 4 o'clock when the rain ceased and the sun came out again, but it was so late that the people did not come out in crowds, and late Sunday evening the bureau of admissions estimated the total paid attendance would be less than sixty thousand people.

The visitors who attended the fair Sunday were largely of the working class, and were inhabitants of Chicago. Thousands of laboring men were out with their families, and nearly all of them brought their lunch with them, and at noon the benches and seats scattered throughout the grounds reminded one of a basket picnic. An official connected with the bureau of admissions, in speaking of the character of the crowd said that the out-of-town people had been coming to the fair all week, and were tired out Sunday and were taking rest, so as to be able to take a fresh start Monday. About the only people who came out Sunday were those who could not attend during the week.

Another thing that was noticeable, the pay shows on the Midway Pleasure, the pay show, the pet automobile, and the rolling chairs were used at all times. It was a crowd made up of people who had to work for a living and could afford few of the luxuries. The money-rollers were at home resting. The gendoliers had little to do, and the electric launches less.

Nearly all the eastern states' buildings were closed to the public, while the majority of the buildings erected by the western and middle states were open.

According to the registers found in nearly every state building western people are coming to the World's fair in much greater numbers, as a general thing, than those living in the older eastern states.

Cattle Thieves Captured and Killed.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The band of cattle thieves captured at a ranch near Ogilvie and drove off a large portion of the stock have been captured and killed. The outlaws were bold in their operations and were making their way to the United States with their booty when a party of ranchmen overtook them and shot them down. The thieves stood their ground and returned the fire. The battle lasted almost an hour. Three ranchmen and four of the thieves were killed. The remainder of the band attempted to escape, but were captured. The cattle were recovered.

A Carnegie Enterprise Fails.

Stolen Child Recovered.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 5.—Mamie Schwartz, the 5-year-old child of Valentine J. Schwartz, pressman on a St. Paul German paper, who was abducted a year ago, has been recovered at West Superior, Wis. She was in the possession of a switchman, named Allard, who had received her from a family named Lavina, at Duluth, with whom she was left by a woman who abducted her.

Family Poisoned.

COLUMBIA, O., June 5.—A peculiar case of poisoning developed Sunday in the family of E. P. Wright, a soldier, living at 738 Hamlet street. Immediately after eating supper Saturday night Wright, his wife and two children became very ill, and were at the point of death Sunday. It is supposed that they were poisoned by eating infected corn.

To Reduce Freight Rates.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The Southern Pacific Monday will meet the reduced freight rates of the Canada Pacific from New York to San Francisco. It was the cut under all classes where the Canadian Pacific quotes rates of more than $1 a hundred pounds. The Southern Pacific cut is 10 per cent out over its rivals.

Forced to Drink Acid.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 5.—Wm. Moore was assaulted on the street here Sunday by two unknown men. While one of them held him, the other forced him to drink the contents of a bottle of carolic acid. He is in a serious condition and may not recover. His assailants escaped.

CARRIER PIGEONS.

Experiment to Be Made By the Government in Message to the Navy.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—The interest in pigeons as messengers bids fair to continue. On Monday the United States steamship Constellation in leaving Annapolis for the annual practice cruise will carry Annapolis, Washington and Richmond birds, which will be liberated down the bay, off the capes and at sea. Philadelphia will be at the disposal of George W. Childs to fit up a loft with pigeons for messenger service in the Public Ledger building. Pigeons have been used successfully for ten years past, but always to a disadvantage, as the birds were borrowed and not only unused to the work, but returned to homes at a distance from the news centers, and time was lost.

TERRIBLE DISTRESS.

Five Thousand Arkansas People Made Homeless by a Cyclone.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 5.—Great distress and suffering is being experienced by the people of Hope, Ark., and vicinity. The terrible cyclone of May 30 has left 4,000 people homeless and in destitute circumstances. Many of the people arrived here Sunday on a relief mission. He issued an address to the business men of St. Louis, Chicago, Little Rock and Memphis, asking for aid. It is signed by the merchants of Hope. Mass meeting was held here Sunday to raise funds. "The mayor says, 'The public has no idea of the storm and its results. It extended over a territory of seventy-five to ninety miles in breadth, in many places demolishing houses, fences and crippling many people. As far as known three men were killed and about twenty injured.'"

New Rifle for the Army.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The ordnance department of the army is making preparations to begin the manufacture of the new army rifle at the Springfield armory immediately after the beginning of the new fiscal year. The rifle is of very small caliber, intended to use smokeless powder, and is a magazine arm. It is the latest model, and was developed from the old rifle, which was made possible by the use of the most modern machine tooling. This number of rifles will probably suffice to arm the entire infantry and artillery branches. The carbine for cavalry use has not yet been designed, but will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

Italy's King Reviews His Troops.

ROME, June 5.—The king of Italy held a grand review of the troops in the Piazza Venezia at the capital Sunday, it being the anniversary of the proclamation of the constitution by Charles Albert, king of Sardinia, forty-five years ago. After the review his majesty presented to the troops the medals which have been awarded them for conspicuous bravery. Sunday evening, the principal streets of the city are brilliantly illuminated in honor of the event and great crowds of people are everywhere to be seen intent on viewing the decorations.

Kansas Grasshoppers in Ohio.

INDEPENDENCE, O., June 5.—Severely specimens of the large Kansas grasshopper have been found in the country near Bucyrus, and the farmers are dreading an invasion from this pest. Quite a number of farmers report seeing large grasshoppers, but did not know what kind they were until C. Amuliner, who was and operates several farms in Kansas as well as Ohio, pronounced them the genuine hopper so much dreaded in Kansas. Specimens brought by this city were fully three inches long.

Anniversary of Garibaldi's Death.

ROME, June 5.—A largely attended popular festival was held Sunday to celebrate the anniversary of the death of Garibaldi which occurred on June 2, 1882. It is estimated that considerably over 4,000 people took part in the ceremonial and at least fifty societies were represented by delegates. The bands which accompanied them played the music which they received with enthusiasm.

Result of the Walking Contest.

VIENNA, June 5.—The walking contest which was held in the city of Vienna on Sunday, June 4, was won by a printer, who is described as from Saxony by three hours. This result is hailed with delight by the advocates of vegetarianism, who claim that a man can do a great deal of physical labor and with a minimum of sleep. If he will only follow their teachings.

No More Offices for Ohioans.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The list of Ohio appointments in Washington has attained such respectable proportions that it has been practically agreed to further appointments from that state will be made Cincinnati democrats on congressional ticket have been having the best chance at the pie counter which they improved to the fullest extent.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Cleveland returned from his fishing trip to Hog Island Sunday morning, reaching Washington at 10 o'clock. He showed the effect of his outing in the annual appearance. Immediately on his return he sent for Private Secretary Chamberlain and spent the entire afternoon in close conference.

He Was There.

CHICAGO READY FOR HER.

The Infants Take Her First Peep at the Big Show.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Every thing is in readiness at the Palmer house for the reception of the Princess Dalila and her suite. According to the original program the princess should have reached Chicago a week ago, but the New York festivities necessitated a change in the arrangements and her abiding place was changed from the Auditorium hotel, where the duke of Veragua and his suite have been stopping, to the Palmer house. Here eleven rooms have been set apart for the distinguished visitor and her retinue. They are finished in green and gold, decorated with flags and flowers. The sleeping chamber is the one that has been occupied at different times by the late Emperor Dom Pedro, President Cleveland, Grant, Prince Louis, Lady Aberdeen and other distinguished people of all countries. The corridor leading to the suite will be guarded by officers of the Spanish army and the princess will be enabled to promenade, eat and sleep as much as she pleases without exposing herself to the gaze of the vulgar herd when she is not so inclined.

The gold pass to Jackson park, which is to be presented to the princess by the directory, was finished by the engravers Saturday morning. Upon her arrival the depot will be guarded by a platoon of the Spanish army. The carriage will be drawn by four white horses, and a company of mounted police, led by twelve trumpeters, will clear the way to the hotel. No one will be permitted to send her invitations for social events except through Mayor Harrison.

THE LONE TRAIN ROBBER

Tells His Story—How a Telegraph Operator Held Up the Pacific Express.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—Samuel A. Wilson, the lone robber who held up and robbed the Pacific express car attached to the Missouri Pacific train near Pacific, Mo., on the night of May 24, was captured at the home of his parents, near Lebanon, Mo. Wilson has made a clear confession. He said that he robbed the express car in order to secure the money with which to pay a mortgage on his father's farm. When asked why it was that he left his village, where he was the key to his capture, near the robbery, he said: "It was not my money I was after, but the train to a halt where the valise had been placed by me. I could not gauge exactly where the train was, owing to the light that came from the cab of the engine."

"I thought that I was at the place where my valise was, but I afterwards found that I was mistaken. Consequently, after I finished the job, I made haste to get away. I am now satisfied to go to the penitentiary, and I intend to plead guilty. I want to learn a better trade than that of telegraphing for making a living, and it is for this reason that I want to go to the penitentiary."

In reference to the money dumped in the cornfield near the scene of the robbery, Wilson said he had placed it there for the purpose of securing him a lighter sentence in case he was captured. Wilson was formerly employed as a telegraph operator along the line of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad.

OCEAN FLYERS.

The Campania and the Paris Go Out Together—Not Equally Matched.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Two marvels of ship building, the steamers Campania, Cunard line, and Paris of the American line, left port Saturday morning, and the time has come when their destinations some of the trans-Atlantic records may be broken. That the Campania has the best chance of doing so is little doubt. She has made only three voyages in her brief career, but in each of these broke the record of some steamer that had gone before.

On the Campania's first journey to this port, which was her first across the Atlantic, she made the maiden record of 6 days, 5 hours and 34 minutes. On her return trip to Queenstown she made the distance in 5 days, 17 hours and 44 minutes, beating the record of the New York by 2 hours and 15 minutes. In this she proved herself the supreme vessel afloat.

Rocky Bay, where the Paris is undoubtedly outclassed by the Campania, she is by no means a steamship of the past, and under favorable conditions may achieve a record in the westward race that is little less than a record from Queenstown of 5 days, 14 hours and 24 minutes, and until the Campania gets down to the actual business of breaking records her time will remain untouched by other vessels.

Dropped Dead From Excitement.

ROCKY BAY, N. J., June 5.—Squire Morgan, aged 48, dropped dead from excitement when he saw a team running away, with his 13-year-old son in the wagon. The wagon collided with a stump, completely demolishing it and throwing the boy violently to the ground, breaking one of his legs and an arm. The boy was otherwise seriously injured.
